

Manisha, from the Mudia tribe in Central India reads a book in her language, Gondi, for the very first time.

CREATING ACCESS TO OPENLY LICENSED EARLY READING RESOURCES IN ASIA'S INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES

387M - 6 out of 10 children globally are not achieving minimum proficiency levels in reading, despite attending school

STORYWEAVER, AN OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCE PLATFORM WITH MULTILINGUAL STORYBOOKS FOR CHILDREN

Read over 17,000
high-quality books
online or offline

Use the translation tools to translate books into a language of your choice

Choose from 24,000+ high-quality images to create new books

Download the books
as Epubs, PDFs, or print and use them

All content under
CC BY 4.0

The book that Manisha is reading was created on StoryWeaver by a group of 20 educator-volunteers, who translated 300 books into Gondi, an Indian tribal language. The books were reviewed and published in just 10 days, and were printed locally and distributed in the Bastar District.

17,000+ storybooks
208 languages
2.2 M users

600 books available in 16 of Asia's indigenous languages